

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Please read these instructions carefully before removing the copings from the pallet

Eurodec copings are manufactured from high strength concrete with cement incorporated at optimum levels. It is absolutely paramount that prior to installation the stones are stored in dry conditions. If water ingress into the stack occurs it will result in efflorescence and staining.

If it is necessary to remove the copings from the original pallet please ensure the copings are re-stacked exactly the same way as on the original pallet i.e face to face with the foam sheets in between and the bars between the backs.

DO NOT place expanded polyurathene protective bars between the face of the copings as the high cement of the copings can cause marking and staining to the surface.
